

The EWGA's top 10 list of what makes a golf course women-friendly:

1. The pro shop has friendly, helpful staff.
2. The pro shop carries rental equipment for women and a variety of women's clothing, balls and shoes.
3. Starters and marshals treat women's groups the same as men's.
4. Slope rating and handicap conversion material are easy to find.
5. There are two sets of tee boxes rated for women (so that both recreational and more advanced players can be accommodated).
6. Forward tee boxes are well maintained and located in appropriate, interesting settings.
7. Benches and ball washers are available on the forward tees on at least one-third of the holes.
8. Fully stocked (and clean) washrooms are accessible every five to six holes.
9. Restaurants and beverage carts offer healthy food choices, as well as wine and coolers.
10. There is a nine-hole rate and league available for women golfers.
